MEDIA ADVISORY

Shark Tank Competition at Carson High School

WHAT: Business Students at Carson High School (CHS) will take a bite at their chance to experience a mock version of the classic American reality television series “Shark Tank.” Thanks to CHS Teachers Billy McHenry and Angila Golik as well as Carson City community professionals, students will be offered real life experiences.

“Shark Tank” allows aspiring entrepreneur-contestants to make business presentations to a panel of “Shark” investors who then choose whether or not to invest. Like the show, 6-12 community “Sharks” will listen to and judge the business plans and award $300 to the winner in each class. A total of $1,800 will be awarded.

Community business partners for the program include the Adams Hub, Greater Nevada Credit Union, In Plain Sight Marketing, Mutual of Omaha Bank, Sierra Financial Planners and US Bank. Additional support comes from Micheal Salogga, Carson City Visitors Bureau, and Polymer 80.
